

PRESS RELEASE

2ND EDITION CIRCULAR TEXTILE DAYS: 13 & 14 SEPTEMBER 2022

After the successful last year's debut, the Circular Textile Days will have a follow-up on 13 and 14 September, 2022, in 's Hertogenbosch, The Netherlands. During these days various players within the textile industry will showcase examples in the field of textile sustainability, recycling and innovations.

Why Circular Textile Days

The relevance of Circular Textile Days is high. The report from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), published in 2021, makes clear that we need to take action urgently. It appeared that about 20% of the global clean water pollution is caused by dyeing and finishing of textiles. Besides, despite all positive initiatives less than 0.5% of our clothes is made of recycled textile. We are bound to run out of natural resources and the enormous clothing-waste pile is polluting our earth. We can, and must, do better!

News, facts and innovations

Exhibitors, knowledge institutes and other participants will showcase their novelties, give an insight in circular business practices and share knowledge about circular textile, sustainable solutions and more. At Circular Textile Days you will find how far advanced the circular technologies are, backed up with reliable information and facts.

Networking and partnerships

Circular Textile Days is accessible for anyone interested in textile. Unlike the 1st edition, this year the focus will be broadened from workwear and functional clothing, to textile sectors including fashion, sportswear, upholstery and home textiles.

Textile professionals are expected from many different product groups and from the whole supply chain, including the recycling industry, either as exhibitor or as visitor. Next to suppliers, producers and end-users, this includes trade associations and test- and knowledge institutes. This makes it an ideal place to extend your network and find opportunities for business partnerships with various parties of the entire circular textile value chain.

When & where

This second edition of Circular Textile Days event will take place on 13 & 14 September, 2022, at 1931 Congress Centre, 's Hertogenbosch, The Netherlands.
